THE SCHOOL OF HEALTH®

Just be. Take your passion for yoga to a deeper level. Our home study course will increase self-awareness, broaden thinking, and help you to become more mindful. This one year foundation philosophy course is perfect for anyone who is serious about yoga and wishes to expand their spiritual understanding about the philosophy, origins, teachings, principles and values of yoga.

Why study yoga philosophy?

People study the philosophy of yoga for different reasons: you may wish to teach yoga; you may already be a teacher who wishes to find a deeper understanding; or you may be a complete beginner and simply wish to reach deeper levels in your own practice. This is why we created the foundation course for anyone who enjoys yoga and wishes to understand what it is all about. You do not attend classes or practise yoga with this course, rather you learn via home directed study about the philosophy, principles and methodologies that underpin yoga.

We will take you through the basics of yoga, from the history to philosophy, its teachings and an introduction to human anatomy. With this foundation course you will encounter all the elements required for a very successful personal yoga practice and hopefully along the way you will begin to establish your own daily practice.

What will this course do for me?

Studying yoga can be a pleasurable experience, and with our home study course you can relax, take your time and learn at a pace to suit you - you can incorporate the teachings of yoga into your daily routine. In this course you will learn many different aspects to yoga, including the basics of anatomy and physiology, the importance of nutrition, and meditation, all of which play an important part in learning yoga. The course teaches you how to fit everyday yoga into a busy schedule, and how easy it can be to change your lifestyle for the better.
